Trump Maintains Strong Lead in West Virginia

Cincinnati, Ohio – Donald Trump has a commanding 18-point lead over Hillary Clinton, according to the latest edition of the MetroNews West Virginia Poll.

Trump leads 49 percent-to-31 percent over Clinton, while Libertarian candidate Gary Johnson trails with 10 percent and Green Party candidate Jill Stein with 4 percent support. Six percent of likely voters remain undecided.

“Donald Trump continues to dominate the presidential race in West Virginia, as he did during the primary season,” Rex Repass, CEO of REPASS Research and director of the MetroNews West Virginia Poll said. “There is enthusiasm for the Republican nominee, but Libertarian Gary Johnson is also gaining some support. Nearly nine-in-10 West Virginians are worried about the national economy (57 percent “very worried” and 31 percent “somewhat worried”), and Republicans in the state are enthusiastic about their presidential nominee,” Repass added.

In addition to his support among Republicans (eight-in-10 said they would vote for Trump if the election were held today), Trump’s support among independents is 53 percent and 27 percent among Democrats.

In other poll questions, 41 percent of respondents in West Virginia said they prefer a Republican controlled US Congress vs. 39 percent who said they prefer control by the Democratic party. President Obama has 32 percent approval rating compared to 60 percent who disapprove.

West Virginia governor Earl Ray Tomblin has a 53 percent approval rating (25 percent disapprove); US Senator Joe Manchin has a 50 percent approval rating (31 percent disapprove); and Shelley Moore Capito has a 47 percent approval rating (27 percent disapprove).

A methodology statement and additional findings follow.

Methodology Statement

Results of this edition of MetroNews West Virginia Poll are the result of interviews conducted between August 9-28, 2016 (presidential and gubernatorial questions fielded August 18-28, 2016) with a sample of 386 and 435 registered, likely voters in W.Va. including registered Democrats, Republicans, Libertarian, Mountain Party, and unaffiliated or independent voters. Data collection methods used included landline phone, cell phone, and opt-in Internet panel. Each data collection method has inherent strengths and weakness.

Respondents answered screening questions to qualify for participation in the poll including West Virginia residency, current voter registration, and likelihood to vote in the November 8, 2016 primary election. All 55 counties in West Virginia were represented in the survey proportionate to the number of registered voters by party based on 2016 data from the W.Va. Secretary of State's office.

When using multiple data collection methods, it is not appropriate to apply a probability-based margin of error to interviews completed. However, applying statistical tests of significance to each question asked at the 95 percent confidence interval yields an overall statistical error of +/- 4.7 percentage points based on the 435 ballot questions asked of registered likely voters. The 95 percent confidence interval varies by question.

The purpose of the MetroNews West Virginia Poll is to provide a snapshot of opinion and timely voter views in the Mountain State. The media sponsor of the West Virginia Poll is MetroNews, the statewide radio network owned by West Virginia Radio Corporation.

REPASS is responsible for questionnaire design, the respondent screening and selection process, data tabulation, statistical analysis, and reporting of results. Data collection for this issue of the poll was conducted from the firm's Charleston, W.Va. data collection facilities for telephone, mobile, and online surveys. Both the REPASS and McMillion firms are members of the Council of American Survey Research Organizations (CASRO).

Data as reported has been statistically weighted based by Census estimates of voter participation by age, party affiliation, and gender.
